What is the microgrid Research Laboratory (mglab)?

The Microgrid Research Laboratory (MGLab) is a world class proof-of-concept which facilitates the real-time control, operation, and optimal energy management of renewable energy integration together with energy storage systems and consumption.

What is a microgrid & how does it work?

A microgrid is a group of interconnected loads and distributed energy resources that acts as a single controllable entity with respect to the grid. It can connect and disconnect from the grid to operate in grid-connected or island mode. Microgrids can improve customer reliability and resilience to grid disturbances.

How is microgrid operation validated?

Microgrid operation was validated in a power hardware-in-the-loop experiment using a programmable DC power supply to emulate the battery and a grid simulator to emulate the Guam grid-tie point. The validation scenarios included grid disturbances approaching 1 MW.

Does NLR support a microgrid battery energy storage system?

NLR supported the development and acceptance testing of a microgrid battery energy storage system developed by EaglePicher Technologies as part of an effort sponsored by U.S. Northern Command. The three-tiered, 300-kW/386-kWh grid-tied system is capable of providing grid stabilization, microgrid support, and on-command power response.
